For the corellogram, I was able to create the corellogram and run it on a portion of the dataset. However, I was unable to perform the matching due to time constraints which meant I could not check the factors provided. The values for the 600 images selected are provided in the json named CORELL.json